The Subject Index for Volume 99 will appear in the December 1988 issue as part of a cumulative index for the year 1988.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

:perimental Neurology is an international journal publishing in English the results of original experi- tal research in the neurological sciences. Articles reporting experimental data of fundamental clinical rch relevant to basic neuroscience principles may be considered. Preliminary articles, reviews, and reports are not accepted. Papers concerned primarily with new procedures or apparatus are considered when a new principle is involved or greatly improved results are obtained and when evidence of uperiority is clearly borne out by application to the nervous system. Policy regarding publication of riments on unanesthetized animals conforms with the standards for use of laboratory animals estab- d by the Institute of Laboratory Animal Resources, U.S. National Academy of Sciences. Experiments nich curariform agents are used must be justified and details as to steps taken to reduce or avoid distress e animal must be provided, particularly with regard to electrical stimulation. Exposition must be as as is consistent with accuracy and clarity. Lengthy bibliographic lists should be avoided. Submit uscript in triplicate (original typescript and two copies) to:

John R. Sladek, Jr.
Editor, Experimental Neurology
Department of Neurobiology & Anatomy
University of Rochester Medical Center
601 Elmwood Avenue, Box 603
Rochester, New York 14642

anuscripts are accepted for editorial review with the understanding that the content has not been ished previously except as a preliminary report and is not submitted elsewhere for publication. Fur- more, it is understood that they will have received the appropriate clearance and the approval of all ors necessary for publication prior to submission.

uthors submitting a manuscript do so on the understanding that if it is accepted for publication, copy- t in the article, including the right to reproduce the article in all forms and media, shall be assigned usively to the Publisher. The Publisher will not refuse any reasonable request by the author for permis- to reproduce any of his or her contributions to the journal.

reparation of Manuscript. Type manuscripts double-spaced throughout, including acknowledgments, ract, and references, on 21.6 × 28-cm sheets, and in Experimental Neurology format. Most recommen- ons of the Council of Biology Editors are to be followed; consult the CBE Style Manual, 5th ed., $24 ncil of Biology Editors, 9650 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, MD 20814).

ll authors are encouraged to limit the length of manuscripts submitted to about 17 pages (21.6 × 28 double-spaced, including tables and figures (about 10 printed pages). It may be necessary to levy ges for longer manuscripts to defray excess costs of publication. Halftones are charged at cost.

esearch Notes. Short manuscripts of no more than 5 or 6 double-spaced typed pages and limited to 1 re and/or table (approximately 4 printed pages) will be considered. They should have an abstract of a sentences, but no section headings.

pelling. Follow Webster's New International Dictionary, Third Edition, Unabridged (1969) for spelling division of words. Nonstandard abbreviations should be minimal.

umerals. Use numerals with standard units of measurement and for any number above nine. The ric system must be used and abbreviations made according to the International System (Standard ric Practice Guide, American Society for Testing Materials, Philadelphia, 1970).

lustrations. The maximum available page space is approximately 12 × 18 cm. Each component of a nposite figure should be lettered on the lower left face and referred to in text and caption. All lettering st be done with professional skill or with "Artype" characters. For best reproduction provide clear, p, glossy prints with adequate contrast. The best results will be obtained if authors match the contrast density of all figures appearing on a single plate. If this is not possible, provide unmounted original Providing an overlay that indicates the most critical areas of micrographs will also aid in ensuring high- lity reproduction. Halftone reproduction of illustrations will be charged to authors. Figure captions uld be typed (double-spaced) continuously on a separate page, with each caption beginning on a new ; it is not necessary to use a separate page for each caption.

ables. Organize tables horizontally on the page if possible. Footnotes to tables should be typed immedi- y below the tables and referred to with superscript, lowercase, italicized letters.

Title page. A short title of no more than 40 characters (to be used as the running head) should appe on the title page, with the name, address, and telephone number of the author with whom editors a publisher may communicate.

Acknowledgment. Incorporate all acknowledgments into a single footnote to authors' names.

Abstract. Summarize the problem, the methods, and the results and their significance in a single pa graph of 250 words or less.

References. Use numerals in parentheses in the text. List references alphabetically and number consec tively, but do not incorporate "personal communications" or "unpublished observations" into this li Abbreviations of journal titles should conform to Index Medicus, a complete list of which appears in December issue. Note below some examples of punctuation and format for Experimental Neurology.

Proofs. Two sets of galley proofs and the original manuscript are sent to the author designated to recei them. To avoid delay in publication, only necessary changes should be made, and proofs and manuscri should be returned promptly.

Reprints. Authors may order reprints, using the order form provided with the galley proofs.
